FIREPLACES

Classic or modern fireplaces are today one of the most common interior design elements. In the past, they were reserved only for large spaces and stylish residences, where they created an atmospheric space for relaxation.
In the case of a fireplace, its aesthetics is primarily created by the housing, tailored to the type of interior and the individual preferences of the owners.
In response to the needs of our customers, we have introduced to our offer classic and modern fireplaces made of natural stone.

They are undoubtedly a decoration of houses and flats, fitting into the minimalist and traditional style. The stone allows to freely design the appearance of the fireplace, combining with both metal and wooden elements, creating a rustic atmosphere.

KITCHEN WORKTOPS

Kitchen worktops are not only an aesthetic decorative element of a room, but most of all a furniture finish, providing a comfortable worksurface. The worktop should therefore be resistant to mechanical damage, high and low temperature and moisture, and at the same time have a timeless design that fits into the individual style of the flat.
Our offer includes bespoke kitchen worktops made of stone.
Why is it worth choosing this solution?
Stone kitchen worktops mean a unique design, durability and easiness to keep clean. Thanks to these features, natural raw materials are more and more often chosen for home kitchens. We make worktops of various types of stone, tailored to the individual preferences of the investor.

QUARTZ SINTERS

These are materials consisting only of natural minerals, such as quartz sand, granite rocks, shale clays and ceramic pigments. Quartz sinters are formed in the process of milling, pressing and baking in special hybrid ovens.
The collections in various colours mean that each, even the most demanding customer will find something for themselves.

Quartz sinters are suitable for interiors, in particular for kitchen and bathroom worktops, as well as for window sills, floors, walls, stairs and fireplaces.
They can also be successfully used as exterior cladding of buildings or terraces.
Huge quartz sinter slabs can be used as an alternative to materials, such as marble and granite, the price of which is usually higher and the environmental impact is also greater. Due to their excellent technical properties, quartz sinter slabs are ideal for the most delicate applications requiring maximum hygiene and resistance.
The large format of the slabs (3200 x 1600, 12 mm thick) guarantees repeatability of the material, and the lack of joints increases the aesthetics.
